Great Donors Enable CollegeBound to Build a Treasury of Scholarships for Baltimore's Youth

January, 2010

CollegeBound's great donors represent a broad community commitment to increase the numbers of underserved kids who will earn a college degree and realize their dream of economic independence. A community's greatest asset is its children and today's investment in our great kid's future will change their lives while strengthening the social and economic fabric of our community.

This spring the CollegeBound Foundation will award over $400,000 in need based financial aid grants and nearly $200,000 in special scholarships. This is all made possible by individual and corporate donors whose generosity will help several hundred very deserving kids who are on a pathway to earn a Bachelor's degree. Without donor support many deserving, talented kids would never go to college.

CollegeBound simply needs more great donors to enable more great kids to earn a college degree.
